

FORUM IN FAMILIES & FAMILY BUSINESS

BUSINESS AND FAMILY. A SYMBIOTIC RELATIONSHIP.

Successful CEOs today are likely to have been strongly influenced by the command and control era of industrializing and scaling for global growth. They may be action-oriented, business-driven and potential-seeking individuals. They probably lead from the front, focusing on the 'what' more than the 'why' and the 'how'.

Effective family heads and CEOs today are embracing 21st century leadership techniques together with Forum principles. They are nurturing and growing their family members (and their employees) into a generation of individuals who are empowered & accountable, authentic & highly passionate and who will have the potential to impact the world in ways that are positive and that they can be proud of, professionally and personally.

OBJECTIVE AND BENEFITS

The Forum in Families & Family Business program explores how leadership has changed. It takes a holistic view to show how professional and personal lives can interact, combine and 'work' together in a mutually beneficial relationship.

Through this 4-hour, deeply engaging and interactive program, participants will benefit by:

- Being inspired and equipped to have the conversations that matter around deep and important questions that they may be facing in their family.
- Understanding why and how to embrace the well-known and appreciated Forum principles and techniques for effective communication
- Bringing them to life within the family unit, throughout its life cycle.
